

Dear Valued Customer,

Beginning on October 1, 2011, the Atlantic Detroit Diesel-Allison Training Center will be restructuring our course options and pricing. Our training center already provides one of the highest values in the country, which includes training materials and lunches with the course fees. Also, based upon your technician’s comments, we have realigned our offerings to allow enough time to cover all the necessary content within each course. Our new price structure is both competitive and easy to work into your budget. Rather than daily rates, the courses are now priced per class.

Please refer to the following guide to plan your training requirements, and visit our website at www.atlanticdda.com for a current schedule. Thank you!
